I am absolutely outraged by the attempt of the commercial broadcasters in petition 04-160 to forbid satellite radio from giving its paid subscribers local traffic and weather data. What a pathetic lot--the broadcasters apparently think they can not thrive in a free market so they ask the FCC to eliminate their competition. This is obviously an abuse of legitimate regulation and should be refused. I drive 42,000 miles a year in my business and good traffic/weather data is very important. With a few exceptions like WCBS no broadcaster comes close to providing this data rapidly and accurately enough and XM is much better than even WCBS. Because I pay for it there are no commercials or fundraisers to interrupt and since the channel does ONLY the local traffic and weather it is much more detailed. Please reject their petition.
